

References

An employment reference is a person who will be able to positively comment on your skills, abilities, work habits, or character.

